UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE DISTRICT OF MINNESOTA

Integrated Process Solutions, Inc.,	Court File No.: 19-cv-00567
Plaintiff,	Hon. _____
vs.	DECLARATION OF LORI ARNOLD IN SUPPORT OF MOTION FOR TEMPORARY RESTRAINING ORDER, EXPEDITED DISCOVERY, AND PRESERVATION OF EVIDENCE
Lanix LLC, Kevin Landsverk, and Dylan Dyke, Defendants.

Lori Arnold, being first duly sworn, declares as follows:

1.   I am employed as Project Management & Corporate Secretary at Integrated Process Solutions, Inc. ("IPS"). As a result of my position, I am very familiar with IPS's business operations, including but not limited to: (a) the methods and information IPS relies on to secure new business, (b) the methods and information IPS uses to maintain and deepen relationships with current customers, (c) the methods and information IPS uses to gain a competitive advantage over other companies in the same or similar market(s), and (d) the lifecycle of various kinds of projects IPS typically completes for its customers.

2.   IPS takes significant steps to protect the confidentiality of its information, including but not limited to limiting access to its offices and computer systems, requiring employees to use computer passwords, and purchasing insurance against data breaches. IPS takes such steps because it derives a competitive and, therefore, economic advantage simply by keeping some and/or all of that information confidential.

3. During his time at IPS, like other employees, defendant Kevin Landsverk ("Landsverk") utilized a mobile phone issued by IPS and a mobile phoneline paid for by IPS.

4. After Landsverk resigned from employment, IPS obtained copies of text messages exchanged between Landsverk and defendant Dylan Dyke ("Dyke") through the website of our mobile services provider ("Verizon"). We later received copies of those texts from Xact, the computer forensics company that IPS hired.

5. I personally reviewed text messages between Landsverk and Dyke, including the select text exchanges IPS has cited to in connection with its Motion for Temporary Restraining Order, filed herewith. I can and hereby do attest that the excerpts cited are true and correct representations of the texts IPS obtained from the Verizon account and from Xact. A true and correct copy of excerpts of the recovered text conversations between Landsverk and Dyke is attached hereto as Exhibit A.

6. The text exchanges contain or refer to information that IPS reasonably believes is confidential, proprietary, and sensitive from a competitive standpoint, including but not limited to:

- financial and pricing information, including costs of work performed;

- custom technical drawings created in AutoCAD file format, including IPS-created standards, and the databases in which they reside;

- project management processes and techniques;

- information about particular IPS employees, including their expertise and compensation;

4812-6248-9993

- IPS's IT security and systems; and

- IPS's methods and process for responding to project bids.

Additionally, the text exchanges, individually and in combination, show that Landsverk shared and utilized IPS's sensitive information for the express purpose of competing with IPS.

7.   IPS has significant value in the AutoCAD file format of the drawings that Landsverk appears to have taken from IPS. This format contains confidential and trade secret IPS-created standards, and IPS has spent a considerable amount of money developing these standards.

8.   Landsverk was involved in the process of upgrading our files into AutoCAD Electric and knows the effort IPS invested into creating "blocks" and "schematics" to be utilized by the new software. As a project manager, Landsverk was involved in the process of identifying new products in his designs. IPS continues to add to its "block" database weekly, giving Landsverk reason to maintain access to IPS's computer systems.

9.   IPS also uses a Programable Logic Controller ("PLC") program with IPS-developed standards. A PLC is an industrial digital computer which has been ruggedized and adapted for the control of an activity (like utility plant operation) that requires high reliability control and ease of programming and process fault diagnosis. IPS assembles new projects from previously developed programs and "function blocks". IPS also has created HMI/OIT programming standards, which involves developing visual interface programs with screens and symbols for plant operation. Much like the PLC programming, once created these programs can be updated and utilized for future projects. IPS has invested hundreds of hours of programming work into developing these programs. Each project IPS completes continues to build our library and make future projects easier to develop. Landsverk contributed to this database through his IPS employment, and he fully understands the value of reusing programs; he eludes to this fact in his text messages with Dyke.

10. At all relevant times, IPS has taken affirmative steps to maintain this information confidential and out of the hands of its competitors. The reason for this is that IPS derives economic value simply by keeping this information confidential.

I declare under the penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States of America that the foregoing is true and correct based upon my personal knowledge, except as otherwise stated.
